LIGHT IN SKY PUZZLES
OLDEST INHABITANTSRemarkable Phenomenon Observed
Last Night Northeast of Phoenix.

Much comment and many varied theories were evoked last night by the appearance in the sky to the northeast of Phoenix of a peculiar light about the size of a ten-cent piece held at arms length. The light swayed to and fro and then remained stationary. It was too high in the heavens to be the light from a fire on Camelback or one of the other peaks. The light was first seen at 14 minutes of eight and blazed up for about six minutes.

The oldest inhabitants were called out to give their theories of the strange light in the sky. The comet theory was cast aside after an examination of Hostetter's almanac. One of the oldest inhabitants gave his opinion that the ball of fire held suspended between heaven and earth was a meteor or an asteroid that had become entangled as it were, in the earth's atmosphere, very much the same as a fly becomes enmeshed in the strands of a cobweb.

The Star of Bethlehem theory had its supporters, but others argued that Bethlehem was not in that direction and that the star, when it appeared, would not be seen perching on the top of Camelback.

Others of the younger generation were of the opinion that it was the lantern of some marooned astronaut who had anchored his sky boat to a cactus on account of the high wind.

The attention of the police was called to the phenomenon and the entire force climbed to the top of the city hall. The light was plainly visible but none of the learned ones could explain satisfactorily its presence.

It was not visible from the San Webb ranch.

STRONGER ORGANIZATION OF MINING CONGRESS

Local Officers Are Appointed in Each State—Col. L. W. Powell of Bisbee Is Vice-President for Arizona.

Denver, Colo., March 7.—(Special Correspondence of The Republican)—The effectiveness of the American Mining Congress is to be greatly increased by a plan, as announced by the board of directors, of having local officers and subsidiary organizations in each of the mining centers, where no active associations are now in existence. Heretofore the congress has been exclusively national in its scope, giving little attention to the local problems that vex the camps individually, but its growing strength in all the mining states, with now a large membership in each, has suggested a new arrangement under which each state will have its own local branch organization, with local officers and committees in charge. The national organization will thus be brought into close contact with the small operators as well as the large ones, and the entire strength of the national body will, if necessary, be thrown behind any local movement from conditions generally oppressive to the industry.

Besides having a vice-president for each state, who will preside over all local meetings, and look after the local affairs of the mining congress, standing committees will be appointed by the congress for each state for the purpose of ascertaining how the industry is locally affected by such questions as the forest reserves, smelter rates, transportation rates, labor conditions, etc.

Col. L. W. Powell of Bisbee has been selected as the vice-president for Arizona, and mining men throughout Arizona are highly gratified over this appointment. Col. Powell is now the president of the Arizona-Sonora branch of the congress.

Gifford Pinchot, head of the forestry department of the government, and more or less completely in control of the administration of America's millions of acres of public forests, is coming to Denver on March 15 to meet the members of the Colorado legislature, and to confer with the forestry committee of the mining congress in relation to the grievances of mining men against the forest policy. It was at the suggestion of Mr. Pinchot, early in last October, that the mining congress appointed a committee to make investigations concerning the effect of the forest policy upon the rights of mining men, and the committee has meanwhile gathered much data relative to prospecting on public lands and patents to claims within the forest reserves, the use of timber, water rights, etc. Numerous specific complaints have come into the hands of the committee which will be carefully considered.

Mr. Pinchot feels, as do the officers of the mining congress, that a full review of the differences would place most of them in the way of satisfactory settlement, but the mining congress is determined to fight for the removal of all restrictions which hinder the development of mining.

THE MAKING OF A MINE

Work continues unabated on the properties of the Arizona-Bouse Copper Company at Bouse. Since our last announcement the force of men at work has been increased and a Fairbanks-Morse gasoline hoist has been purchased and is now installed on the Little Butte shaft. This shaft is being sunk rapidly and drifting continues in both directions. The fall face of the drifts and the bottom of the shaft are in ore so that no waste rock need be handled. The ore is being piled up on the dump and as it averages 10 to 15 per cent copper, and $3 to $10 gold, it will yield a handsome return to the company in a short time. The cars already shipped have netted over $700, after paying the freight and smelter charges.

HOW TO GET INTO COPPER.

The time to make money in copper is between organization and dividends. Before dividends are declared the price of stock is invariably below par—after dividends, usually much above par. The man who has a million to invest can afford to buy a mine after it has become a dividend payer and often waits until then. The man of moderate means can not afford to buy at the top-notch price. He CAN afford to buy stock at the organization price. His enterprise, his judgment and his faith count for as much as his subscription.

For a few days the price of the Arizona-Bouse Copper Company stock remains at 15 cents. It will be to your advantage to secure the benefit of the pre-organization price as the stock will certainly advance rapidly.

THE HARQUA-HALA MINING CO.

Ironwood, Mich., March 1, 1909.
To the Stockholders of the Harqua-Hala Mining Company:

You are hereby notified that the annual meeting of The Harqua-Hala Mining Company will be held in the parlors of the Adams Hotel in the city of Phoenix, Arizona, on Tuesday the sixth day of April, A. D. 1909, (said date being the first Tuesday of April), at the hour of two o'clock in the afternoon, pursuant to the by-laws of the Company, and in pursuance of a call therefor by the Board of Directors, for the purpose of transacting any and all such business as may come before the meeting. The Board of Directors have also deemed advisable to give specific notice that the following propositions will be voted on at said meeting and that said meeting is called for the following purposes, viz:

- 1st. To elect a board of seven directors.
- 2nd. To adopt by-laws for said corporation.
- 3rd. To amend paragraph six of the Articles of Incorporation so as to authorize said corporation to incur indebtedness or liability to the amount of $500,000 and so that the highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which said corporation shall at any time subject itself shall not exceed the sum of $500,000.
- 4th. To amend paragraph three of the Articles of Incorporation so as to increase the capital stock of said corporation from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 divided into 150,000 shares of the par value of $10 each; and in the event that such increase is voted, then—
- 5th. To amend paragraph six of the Articles of Incorporation so as to authorize said corporation to incur indebtedness or liability to the amount of $350,000 so that the highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which said corporation shall at any time subject itself shall not exceed the sum of $350,000.
- 6th. To ratify the issuance of $400,000 of first mortgage bonds of said corporation, dated July second, 1906, and the issuance and delivery of the trust mortgage securing said bonds.

7th. To consider the proposition of offering to the holders of said bonds an exchange therefor.

8th. To ratify the acts of the officers and directors of the corporation and to approve the minutes of all meetings of the stockholders and directors from the date of the execution of the Articles of Incorporation.

9th. To consider a proposition of The Harqua-Hala Reduction Company, an Arizona corporation, with a capital stock of $1,500,000 divided into 150,000 shares of the par value of $10 each, to take over all the assets and assume the lease and all indebtedness of The Harqua-Hala Mining Company, and for the latter company upon the following basis, viz:

For every share of stock of The Harqua-Hala Mining Company the holder thereof will receive one and one-half share (seventy-five per cent paid) of the stock of The Harqua-Hala Reduction Company.

For every bond (of the par value of $100) of the Harqua-Hala Mining Company the holder thereof will receive fifteen shares (seventy-five per cent paid) of The Harqua-Hala Reduction Company.

For every bond (of the par value of $500) of The Harqua-Hala Mining Company the holder thereof will receive seventy-five shares (seventy-five per cent paid) of the stock of The Harqua-Hala Reduction Company; and

For every bond (of the par value of $1,000) of the Harqua-Hala Mining Company the holder thereof will receive one hundred and fifty shares (seventy-five per cent paid) of the stock of The Harqua-Hala Reduction Company.

The stock of the Harqua-Hala Reduction Company to be issued $7.50 paid and an assessment of twenty-five per cent to be called as follows:

May 1st, 1909, Fifty Cents.
July 1st, 1909, Fifty Cents.
Sept. 1st, 1909, Fifty Cents.
Nov. 1st, 1909, Fifty Cents.
Feb. 1st, 1910, Fifty Cents.

The unpaid coupons of The Harqua-Hala Mining Company bonds including the coupons due January 1st, 1910, will be received as cash toward the payment of the assessment due Feb. 1st, 1910.

Where an exchange on the above basis will give a stockholder a fractional number of shares, The Harqua-

Hala Reduction Company will either purchase from, or sell to, the stockholder, a half share (on the basis of par) at the option of the stockholder.

10th. To take any and all action that may be necessary to carry into effect the vote upon any of the foregoing propositions, and such further action as may be deemed advisable.

The stock transfer books of The Harqua-Hala Mining Company will be closed until May first, 1909.

In the event that you are not able to be personally present at the meeting, please sign the enclosed proxy and mail at once to The Harqua-Hala Mining Company, Ironwood, Michigan.
